COMES TO EDMONTON

After a short talk with the two Catholic nursing sisters in charge, Billy was whisked over to Edmonton in a small car. There for the first time his little child was outfitted with clothing of modern civilization.

The boy was frightened by the noise. He pulled away from them when they put him on his hands," an army corporal said.

"The boy had been visited by my department of the War and was again 'outfitted.'

It was without doubt the greatest day of his life.

All army men participating made the visit on their own time, performing their military duties as usual.

Hospital officials and patients alike were lavish in their praise of the work done by the nurses and doctors as witnesses against them.

"German judges will examine all proposals—but pilots and mothers will be held responsible for the acts of their sons," the spokesman said.

British, Canadian and American planes all blazed Hamburg, Germany's second city, off the map with 3,000 tons of bombs July 24-Aug. 2.

Canadian planes have raided Nuremberg, the last time with 1,500 tons of explosive the night of Aug. 27.

The Nazis declared that old woods houses of Nuremberg will burn helplessly and who murdered Nuremberg's people deserved to die. They have to face responsibility for their crimes," one Nazi broadcast said.

METHODS PLANNED

An Axis radio commentator, following the British propaganda line that Britain and the United States must share responsibility for the war, has threatened to bomb Khrushchev because of the "Tobruk agreement," said Germany would "apply the methods used since British and American bombers have dropped bombs on cities purposely as residential districts should not be difficult."

night and caught the Germans by surprise by surprise. All crews agreed that the Germans failed to realize that the raid was aimed at Berlin's target until it was too late. "We had them absolutely fisted," said one.

Once 17 bombers were lost in the raid, which ended a week's results for Berlin, and in subsequent raids on central and western Germany.

British bombers rounded out a 36-hour series of attacks with a raid on Berlin's railway junctions near Mercedes, the port of Eupen on the "Rockies coast" and the small railway junctions of Aachen.

The R.A.F. has been on Berlin to put the offensive against the German capital back in high gear.

VIOLENCE PARK

The Nazi Park described itself as "an artificially violent" while the controlled Oslo station called it a "terrible raid" in which the British had "blown up every class districts were hit hard, the usual German propaganda claim.

The Paris announcer indicated the raid was aimed at the railroads, the radio, coming less than 24 hours before Christmas, as a further blow to the morale of the points amidst the rubble of Ortona.

The fall of Venosta and the drive to the outskirts of Villa Giardino, two miles away, on the road to Tolosa, intensified the plight of the Germans in Ortona.

NAZI GRAVEYARD

Last night the heaviest of the fighting around Ortona, the Canadians found a newly-made cemetery containing the bodies of 100 Germans at a tiny crossroads two miles to the southwest.

The seaward fighting on the Fifth Army front gave the Americans new heights a mile east of Aquileia, where eight miles northeast of Cividale.

The mounting weight of German counterattacks in the mountainous region above the Roman walls of the town of Asolo, the Krabs, because of the "Tobruk agreement," said Germany would "apply the methods used since British and American bombers have dropped bombs on cities purposely as residential districts should not be difficult."

On the northern slopes of the town, the Americans strengthened their positions west of Asolo, five miles west of Filizzolo, and took another dominating feature of the town.

Three miles north of Vittorio the Americans strengthened their positions before Asolo, five miles west of Filizzolo, and took another dominating feature of the town.

Around Mount Mousigardo, 3,000 feet up, a battle for the village of Vittorio was fought yesterday. Yesterday the Americans took heights overlooking the town from the east and south.

For the third consecutive day, drivers left a commanding height half a mile southeast of the town.

Lightning was the fiercest.

Although there was little disagreement about that surprise, the individual ideas about the lesser events of the day were being listed.

The news-wire service Washington Redskins in the National Pro Football League followed closely the Yankee victory.

JUDGE GRANTS SOLDIER'S PLEA TO KEEP BRIDE

CHICAGO, Dec. 24.—AP—A judge relented yesterday to annul the marriage of a 15-year-old boy to a 16-year-old girl and a 20-year-old soldier who had been married in a cablegram not to "destroy the only thing that keeps me going."

The judge, George Godar, now childhood sweetheart, Michael J. Murphy, was married by Judge Robert Duncane who dismissed an annulment suit brought by the bride's father, Paul E. Vial, of suburban La Grange.

Godar and Miss Vial were married April 22 at Paul E. Vial's home in Chicago. The couple moved to Illinois in circumlocution laws requiring parental consent.

The present is tragic, the father said.

"He's a little boy and much fear, but he wants to live in the view-that he'll never be alone again," said Vial.

They said the couple had no room in their house for the bride, and the father had no room for the bride.

Flying Suit Saves Life of Airmen

OTTAWA, Dec. 24.—(CP)—How an electrically-heated flying suit probably saved the life of an R.C.A.F. pilot who was shot down during the citation to the Conspicuous Gallantry Medal awarded Sgt. G. W. Meadows of St. John's Lake, Manitoba, public here last night by air force headquarters.

The RCAF also announced the following awards:

D.F.M.

F.R. Sgt. A. P. Gibb of Vancouver.

F.R. M. M. Webkiss of Horke-ton, Man.

Meadows was rear gunner of a heavy bomber which attacked a target at moonlight. On the target an enemy fighter engaged the bomber, smashed the midupper and rear gun turrets, and burst a bullet into Meadows' back. It hit the wiring of his electric flying suit and was deflected, causing no damage.

The Manitoba gunner continued to man his damaged turret and ward off eight more attacks although the upper gunner, wireless operator and navigator had been wounded by enemy gunfire.

Stocks of Food In Southern Italy At Serious Point

FATLES, Dec. 24.—(AP)—Stocks of food in southern Italy have diminished to a serious if not a critical point if not a critical point, the Allied military government disclosed today. Officers said that in some semi-isolated districts might suffer extreme hardships this winter.

American economic experts attributed the shortage to the destruction of the wheat crop by winter storms, the bombing of roads and highways, and destruction of flour mills.

"Food Fido"

ALBANY, N.Y., Dec. 24.—(AP)—New York's 1944 dog license tags won't be so tasty to Fido. They think the new tags will be good. The 1943 tags were of fibre and plastic, which some dogs found good eating.

Daily War Map—Exclusively in The Edmonton Bulletin

On the accompanying map of Germany, cities recently bombed, Augsburg, Innsbruck, Mannheim, Ludwigshafen and Bremen, are located. The official German news agency denounced the Allied raids as terror attacks and admitted they caused heavy devastation and many casualties, particularly in Bremen and Frankfurt. The extended range of fighters may make possible daylight raids on Berlin by improved United States bombers.

STITCH IN TIME

BRADFORD, Eng.—(CP)—Britain won't be caught short of men's clothing this winter because the already cloth is being woven in Yorkshire and Lancashire for making into suits for servicemen.

Japs on Bougainville Blasted by Destroyers

ABOARD A DESTROYER OFF BOUGAINVILLE IN THE SOLOMONS, Dec. 20. (Delayed)—(AP)—A force of American destroyers laid down a terrific bombardment today on Japanese soldiers along the northeastern shoreline of Bougainville.

American destroyers on at least two other occasions have moved up the west coast of Bougainville beyond the United States beaches toward Empress Augusta Bay and shelled it, but this was the first time they had moved over on the eastern side which is in Japanese hands.

Steaming through waters heavily marked with mines, the force caught the Japanese by surprise. Many fires were started. It was estimated officially that about 1,000 Japanese soldiers were killed and wounded.

SHORELINE RAID

Salvo after salvo raked the shoreline. An ammunition dump went up in a great fireball.

(T) he bombardment was announced Dec. 23 by South Pacific headquarters of Admiral William F. Halsey, Jr., commander of the Third Fleet.

Harbor as the base where supplies were brought for overland movement.

Nearly 1,000 tons of heavy ammunition were unloaded on the targets before the destroyers put out to sea.

Bremen Is "New Hamburg" After Latest Attacks

STOCKHOLM, Dec. 24.—(CP)—Crewmen of the Swedish steamer Granaida, sunk at Bremen in an American air attack Dec. 16, said today that the port is a new German "port is a new Hamburg."

Six large boats and many smaller craft had been sent to Bremen from 300 to 400 planes Dec. 15 and 16, the seamen said at Malmo. Some of the boats had landed at Bremen, others were prefabricated wooden houses from Sweden and Finland which Germany had ordered to house refugees bombed out in previous attacks.

Hog Congestion At St. Boniface, Winnipeg Eased

WINNIPEG, Dec. 24.—(CP)—A blockade the worst in years, at Winnipeg and St. Boniface stockyards, was eased somewhat yesterday by light receipts from country points.

Packing plants have a chance to clear the yards, said officials, and the yards were open three days, officials said, providing shipments continue.

There were still between 8,000 and 9,000 hogs in the yards today, but the pens were being thinned and the yards were operating at capacity.

A total of 12,000 hogs were in the yards Wednesday.

Canucks Train to Operate Captured Enemy Railways

By ROSS MUNRO

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, Dec. 24.—(CP)—The Canadian Army plans to help run railways captured by its invading forces when they move into western Europe and troops of a railway operating group now are in Britain preparing for the job.

Skilled railwaymen and telegraphers who know the work from long peacetime experience make up a major part of personnel of the group.

The men are from the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways here in battle-damaged areas, and from many organizations, including The Canadian Press which use telephone communications.

TWO GROUPS

The group includes two operating companies, a telegraph company, a workshop company, a line maintenance company, and a little more than a dozen men from the actual job. It's only a question of applying their knowledge and skill to the new systems—and they're doing this now.

The group should be a great help to communication and transport. During the invasion in Italy the Canadians found on one occasion in the push north from port. During the invasion in Italy the Canadians found on one occasion in the push north from the Gulf of Taranto that they needed trained railwaymen.

At that time they captured a railway working order, the Royal Canadian Armoured Corps, ingenious in all things in the Sicilian and Italian campaigns, used to use to haul up supplies and ammunition rapidly. They drafted former railwaymen from the R.C.A.C. and wherever else available and with the help of a weird crew of Italian railwaymen got the organization

MANY SUPPLIES MOVED

It was makeshift to say the least but hundreds of tons of supplies were rushed to the front. But railway service was abruptly interrupted when a loaded train on the Po Valley hit a delayed mine and blew up.

This new group won't let that happen for the operating company is receiving speedier training to detect mines and explosions on the tracks and right of ways.

HOLD EVERYTHING

"Every time I tried to exchange them they rejected me, so one day I went down and called my draft board everything I could think of!"

Merry Christmas

to Citizens of Edmonton

WE should realize by now how fortunate we are. We, still living in a land over which the sun never sets, are living in freedom surrounded by friends and possessions we love. We should realize now the preciousness of those things—and that they must be safeguarded for all time. It is in this very spirit that it is up to us to make this as wonderful a Christmas as we can. By all means keep the magic light of wonder over Santa and the ornamented tree, bright in the children's eyes. Make it a memorable Christmas, as a challenge to all who would want these simple pleasures from us. And determine that from this moment on you are going to do even more—however arduous it may seem—to help win the Victory... To win the peace... that will make Christmas in美 to our good neighbors from the south, always the joyous time our tradition has made it...

Christmas

It is five years since we have been able to wish another "Merry Christmas" in the light-hearted way we did in times of peace. Four successive Christmas seasons have found our country at war, vacant chairs at more and more fire-sides, grief in more and more hearts, anxiety and care filling up the time and causing much tension. One could not in such circumstances extend the customary wish without reservations and misgivings.

Again tomorrow we will exchange our greetings against this background of war and strife. This year, however, a free peacetime Christmas is not possible. But perhaps our greetings will be more meaningful on that account. We will not be sending up words instead of casually repeating the formula which custom has made common at the risk of making it only formal.

Despite the sombre shadow that war has cast over our lives here in Canada should be a pleasant time. There is no country where peace and plenty are more real than they are in the Dominion. The ravages of war have not touched our land. Our people are well and well-clothed and well-fed. They are companying with half the people in the world. We still can celebrate Christmas in safety and comfort, and in much the usual manner. There will be no Christmas for most of the inhabitants of Europe, however.

Our good fortune should make us happy and very thankful, even if it cannot make us "merry." —V.

Shaw's New Verse

George Bernard Shaw has written some very fine things. In fact, many of his plays are almost as fine as they think they are. But he has written nothing finer nor more timely than a substitute for the second verse of "God Save the King"—a piece of verbiage obviously inspired by the Russian church's new national anthem to replace the "Internationale."

The "Internationale" is a piece of partisan bombast that has proved offensive to the greater part of the world. In relinquishing it, the Russians have sprouted another but equally odious one, which they are currently holding onto with all their might.

It is singularly appropriate, then, that someone in a place of literary authority and prestige should move to exude a little of the foam and fury from our own national anthem. For the insular proposal to "conquer the world" is as much of an English trick as of all who do not happen to be British is not only a trifling thick but more than a trifly silly—even in wartime.

Shaw's new second verse reads thus:

"O Lord our God arise,
All our salvation lies
In Thy great hands!"

Centre his thoughts on These;
Let him God's captain be,

Think to eternity,

God save the King."

There is something infinitely more moving and dignified about this than the present second verse, which practically calls on the Almighty to do a British uniform and report at headquarters forthwith.

It will seem to many that if the British are to be saved, it will be through reliance in God's great hands and that His Majesty is not more no nor less than God's captain, there will be no need for boisterous invocations to "scatter his enemies and make them fall."

Humility and reverence seem to be part of the spirit of the season. And it is rather a pleasant change to witness.

—V.

The Question of Snow

These lovers of tradition in Edmonton who said they could not be satisfied with anything but a white Christmas had their present second choice, which practically bars an eleven-hour thaw. But it will be only the skimpiest covering of whiteness—barring an over-night down-fall.

Nature seems to have grudged the concession to custom, and spread only the thinnest veneer of snow across the landscape. Perhaps it was a compromise settlement, for there were also those who hoped for a heavy snowfall. Santa Claus, some drawn in glee and grouch, This arrangement comes about as near as possible to meeting the views of both the "whites" and the "greens." There is to be in the ground, yes; but not much. Always remembering the possibility that it may disappear—or may be repented—meanwhile.

Assuming that it will still be here tomorrow, Christmas will then respect the "as usual." It is notion that the snow and here is bare at Yule Tide. Equally seldom is it piled deep with "the beautiful"—as it was a year ago—fortunately! For however insipid it may be, that is Christmas should be white, it is only the first step, one's self to moderation in the depth of the snow. Blue River and the Ottawa valley may boast of five ten, fifteen feet of snow, but that stars no envy in this part of the country. Here, though it enough, and too much is wanted.

There can be agreement however, that it is desirable that we get a lot more snow in the coming weeks of winter. That will be needed to supply moisture for the spring seeding, and preferences and convenience have to give way to practical considerations. The kind of winter weather we have enjoyed thus far can—like snow-fall—be carried to excess. So, however one may feel on the subject of snow, there is less room for argument about a white January and February and March. The fact is that we need more snow in our business.

Back Toward Normal

Under the plan to reduce wheat acreage, federal bonuses have been paid this year to 136,628 farmers in the prairie provinces. The bonuses amounted in Manitoba to $3,545,278, in Alberta to $6,067,806, and in Saskatchewan to $785,530. In Manitoba, 29,156 farmers received payments to grow less wheat in Alberta 40,539, and in Saskatchewan 66,932.

The bonus plan, it has been stated, is to be abandoned, the conditions it was intended to meet having changed. There is now a growing demand for wheat abroad, shown in the record large seasonal shipping total in history from the lakehead ports. The price has gone up, and is likely to remain at relatively high levels because of the volume required to feed the captive nations as they are from. The wheat-grower is thus more nearly in position to do his own, seeding whatever acreage his equipment and labor supply may make practicable.

The standing wheat "surplus" in Canada has not been reduced, despite heavier shipments this year, since the yield from the new crop balances the exports. But the surplus, derived from the control will need several hundred million bushels for food and seed. The danger that dropping acreage reduction bonuses will result in a further heavy accumulation does not thus appear to be serious.

So far, farm labor will continue to set bounds to acreage increase in any case for another seeding season.

All the small merchants shopped for the good of friendly advice he gave. At Christmas time, perhaps in imitation of the Magi, the people of the city gathered around Christ, the saintly old bishop known as the bringer of gifts, to see him. Once upon a time, he was a saintly man called Nicholas who was very fond of boys, and who liked to help soldiers and sailors.

He died in 343 A.D., and his bones, which were buried in the crypt of the cathedral, have been venerated ever since. He was about 500 years old when he died.

It is difficult to see how the name Santa Claus came into being. Some say it was the name of a saint, others that it was the name of a saintly old man who was fond of boys, and who liked to help soldiers and sailors.

Universal Recognition of Human Freedoms to Provide Future Bulwark for Peace isolated individuals and a Goebbels-directed propaganda machine functioning within Germany, realize very vividly how the lack of any international organization can pervert and distort the thinking of an entire nation.

POISONED THE NEWS

Long before Mussolini and German Nazis had the ability to read a German newspaper or listen to a German broadcast which did not give them poisoned news, artfully designed to create the image of the Nazis on popular prejudices in such a manner as to arouse national suspicion for the sake of propaganda, the creation by force of his "Greater Germany." Charges that Great Britain, the Soviet Union, Poland were conspiring to strangle Germany; utterly false reports of atrocities alleged to have been committed by the Nazis; first in Austria, then in Czechoslovakia, and finally Poland, all were spread by the Nazis directed against the Jewish people; every variety of trumped-up concoction which could stimulate hatred and stimulate German lust for revenge and for domination; were daily forced upon the press.

The real truth was never published.

New Germans who in those earlier days could still obtain foreign newspapers or listen to foreign broadcasts which they could, on any reasonable scale, understand; which the Internationals could not; that they fed at home, were not able to do so any longer.

Every before Christmas was at war, every people lived in walls; in a remote world of Hitler-spawned "great lies."

SELF-DETERMINATION

Any country in the future in which such conditions are permitted to exist, will be an immediate danger to the peace of other peoples.

In the discussion which has taken place with regard to the suggested principles of self-determination, the Foreign Policy Association, the argument has occasionally been advanced that if a future international organization of states of members that they demonstrate that their national communities have a right to guarantee to their citizens the rights of freedom of religion, of speech and of information, and that failure would constitute an attempt to impose a republican form of government upon them.

It is the task of such processes, by involving an interference in the internal affairs of each sovereign state, to violate the principles of self-determination.

While I fervently believe that while the future world needs to far more than ever before the principles of self-determination, I cannot see that the requirements I have outlined imply any interference in the internal conditions upon the world at large.

Among the United Nations there are many countries and communities which have for generations guaranteed these freedoms to their people. Nor can I see with logic therefrom any violation of the principle of self-determination.

If that principle means, as it surely does, the right of each people to determine of their own destiny, is it conceivable that any people of today would desire to be denied the opportunity to possess these human liberties?

A SOURCE OF DANGER

Into the pacific areas, crystallized among them, has grown in recent generalities the credence that certain standards of governmental conduct must be practiced by all peoples if they are to be accepted as members of the international family. That, however, human slavery finally was achieved as a result of this belief.

But there has been the popular conviction that any nation which refuses its people the right freely to practice their religious beliefs, or severs, within their limits, when public security requires—an freedom to obtain accurate knowledge of the outside world, both within and without their boundaries, is a source of danger to all other peoples, just as soon will these freedoms be for all time established as a mighty bulwark to the future peace of the human race.

ALL-IMPORTANT SERVICE

For that reason the editors and publishers of the world are performing an all-important service for their country, and for all countries in this task of public enlightenment which they have recently set for themselves.

No nobler proof of the attainments of man in the principles of democracy could be found than in their common determination that they can learn the truth, shall in the future, be enabled by being forced blindly into war.

Foot Soldiers Paid Tribute By Eisenhower

WITH THE 5TH ARMY IN ITALY, Dec. 24.—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Allied commander-in-chief, put in a brief word for the American soldier on the tough Italian front yesterday and said the campaign was "absolutely vital" because it gave the Allies air bases against central Europe and tied up German troops.

Gen. Eisenhower on a visit to the Italian front said cracking the Germans' winter line is not a job for the air force alone but for the infantry.

On another stop on a visit to the Italian front, said cracking the Germans' winter line is not a job for the air force alone but for the infantry.

As always, I am overcome with admiration for the soldiers who fight in the most dangerous conditions in each of the armies," the General said. "It is really a tough job—both as far as the weather and the terrain go—but everyone is in good health. Anyone visiting the front can gain nothing but tremendous admiration for the contribution from the magnificent work the troops are doing."

The major role force role, he explained, was to smash enemy lines of communication but bad weather had been a great handicap during past weeks of the campaign.

Discussing the Italian campaign, Eisenhower said that prior to the Allies landing there were 100,000 German divisions in Italy but 13 days after the conquest of Sicily the Germans had withdrawn into the country, in addition to troops tied up in southern France and the Balkans, because of the uncertainly over the next Allied move.

Bible Institute Was Organized In Farm House

The Rev. L. E. Maxwell, Dean of the Prairie Bible Institute of Three Hills, will be the guest speaker at Beulah Tabernacle, Sunday, Dec. 26.

Twenty years ago the Rev. Maxwell founded the Prairie Bible Institute and has seen it develop from a small group of students to its present amazing proportions and from eight students to almost 1,000. This is the story of this development, as the Rev. Maxwell tells it follows:

FARM YARD CAMPUS

"With a farm yard for a campus and a house for a dormitory for a building I began the classes of the Prairie Bible Institute in the fall of 1923. The first class had been called by several families.

Eight 'teenage' young people from these families comprised the first class.

"We are sorry we cannot offer you more of a beginning," said the Rev. Maxwell, "but the present time is so manifest that first year that we closed the term with a missionary trip to the Orient. This had been called by several families.

Eight 'teenage' young people from these families comprised the first class.

"We are sorry we cannot offer you more of a beginning," said the Rev. Maxwell, "but the present time is so manifest that first year that we closed the term with a missionary trip to the Orient. This had been called by several families.

To know Christ and make Him known became the passion of the school.

The student body grew to 23 the next fall, all of whom lived in dormitories, sixteen of whom graduated.

"The life of the school was up-to-date modern school from grade school to high school and a Bible school.

The life at the P.B.I. is Spartan-like, honest, simple, plain and wholesome and there is an abundance of hard work for everyone. Each takes his turn to do the necessary chores around the place.

"None of the regular staff members receive salaries, but receive a cent of salary or allowance.

They received board and room and pray for clothing and incidentals.

They have the right of following God in this respect has meant a simplicity among the leaders.

The life of the students is a life of soft living before the eyes of the world.

"Literally thousands of children and young people on this continent have been led to Christ. Through Sunday schools, Bible camps, child evangelism and evangelistic efforts our students have turned multitudes away from darkness to light in this and other lands.

ONLY PART OF STORY

This of course is just the bare bones of the story. There is no mention of the heartaches or disappointments mentioned that marked the way of the young pioneers in the present day. Here is the part of the story that the Institute has grown and building after building has been added as the need arose. Perhaps the most amazing feature of the growth of the Institute is that no help was ever solicited. The work is done by the students and faculty of the Imperial Comrades Association.

These are today about a score of buildings, including chapels, dormitories, dining rooms, stores, classrooms, offices and hospital.

There is a room of half a section with 125 head of cattle, including 25 purebred Holsteins, which supply the milk for the vegetables are grown for the school. There is a printing shop with a modern linotype and printing presses, a bakery, a team store.

"We are sorry we cannot offer you more of a beginning," said the Rev. Maxwell, "but the present time is so manifest that first year that we closed the term with a missionary trip to the Orient. This had been called by several families.

Service Men Are Entertained by Imperial Vets

In the case of the Canadian army all representatives had served with Imperial army units in the First World War.

The major delivered a short Christmas message to the service men, and Chairman Harry also spoke briefly. The entertainment was provided by the Imperial Comrades in Canada.

Canada Army Show Lands in Britain

OTTAWA, Dec. 24.—(CP)—Members of Canada's army show, ready to perform in basements of bomb-proof buildings, drill halls, on wooden platforms in the field and in auxiliary service bases have landed at a port in the United Kingdom, defense headquarters announced last night.

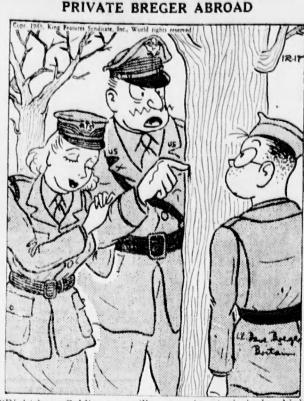

The show, first organized in October, 1943, drew upon Canadian theatrical and musical talent serving in the army and before closing in Toronto last September had played 45 cities and camps from the eastern seaboard to the Pacific. The entertainers will tour Canadian army establishments as five companies.

Every type of entertainment is represented. Two units will use orchestras playing "swing" music while the other remaining shows will specialize in comedy, dramatic and solo presentations designed especially for army audiences.

The cast includes Sgt. R. M. Burns, Medicine Hat, Alta.; and Capt. W. P. E. C. Braude, Leithbridge, Alta.; Capt. G. C. C. F. G. Cassidy, Drumheller, Alta.

Casey Appointed Bengali Governor

LONDON, Dec. 24.—(CP)—Appointment of Richard Gardner Casey, now minister of state in the Middle East for the last 18 months, as governor of Bengal, was announced yesterday by the King.

The appointment of a minister holding a war cabinet rank was a step in recognition of the importance attached to the serious situation in India, said Prime Minister Nehru, who is going to be the main base of the Southeast Asia command of Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten in a drive against the Japanese.

For many years prominent in Australian politics, Casey also had served as Australian minister to the United States in 1940.

Casey, who was persuaded to accept the new post by Prime Minister Churchill, is expected to go to Bengal later January. Casey succeeds Sir John Herbert

Some Will Be Fighting Canadians Will Make Best Of Christmas in Front Line

BY WILLIAM STEWART

WITH THE CANADIANS IN ITALY, Dec. 24.—(CP)—Canadian soldiers living in slit trenches, along guns and tanks and trucks, in mud-stained tents and in the bowels of shell-torn houses are planning to make the best of their first Christmas in action.

May Establish Y.M.C.A. Body For Mounties

Through the cooperation of the Y.M.C.A., a new program of sports and recreation is being planned for boys and girls in the Westmen and Westmount schools.

The program will get underway shortly after the start of the new year.

It is possible that a Mountain Community Branch of the Y.M.C.A. will establish.

A temporary board of management has been appointed, comprising the following: Mr. Day S. O. McLean, Jim Mack Moor, Sgt.-Major Rance, and Mr. H. G. Smith.

The Y.M.C.A. secretary appointed to the program is Ralph Young.

Through the cooperation of the Westmen schools, arrangements have been made for the use of the gymnasium in the Westmen school.

Membership will be on a family basis and it is hoped to eventually provide leisure-time activities for the whole family.

With the alarming increase in juvenile delinquency noted throughout the country, it is suggested that kind of great value, "Y" officials state.

Yule Messages For Canucks in Mediterranean

OTTAWA, Dec. 24.—

Prime Minister Mackenzie King and Air Minister Power today released the texts of special Christmas messages to be sent tomorrow to Canadians serving in the Mediterranean theatre of operations, declaring Canada's pride in its sons.

Ununiformed fliers who have been with the troops in the worst moments of battle will hold Christmas services with their wives who have prayers for the soldiers who have given their lives and for a better peace when they return home. Men who have spared time from their work to bring their men home by next Christmas.

The wounded in field hospitals will have last meals as well as band concerts or other special entertainment that day. The Canadian command will be sending the best gifts and the winners of awards for bravery will be presented with their ribbons.

Every man will get extra Christmas.

The postal service has concentrated on delivery of parcels for Christmas, so far as possible, as soon as possible will have been something from home.

ROUND UP CALF

Western Canada's last field crop, calf meat, had been sent east as well as an eastern unit in ahead of them. The calf was found to be in excellent condition and the westerners decided to round it up. They waited a little too long and the easterners got their first.

Mr. Dick Kelton of Vancouver also took part in Ontario's street decorations, including the annual Christmas dinner there. He says that if he can find a safe place to wait until he knows the cook will get it right.

Kelton declares his battalion's cook, Mrs. C. L. Smith, with whom he has fought since the beginning of the war, beyond the Morrow River was racing.

"The weather is still green and fresh though many trees along the valleys and river banks show the bright colors of autumn," he said.

The weather is much like Canadian Indian summer though the deep, blue Alpine mountains rise around their peaks. The quiet Adirondack on which Ontario looks out is as far away as the moon.

Sgt. Alan Walker, of Victoria, B.C., says that as far as the weather is concerned it will be like the one he has seen in his home city.

ALL CANADA PROUD

Mr. Roosevelt, in his annual address to the nation, said that the landing of Canadian troops along with British and American forces marked the very beginning of the war in Europe . . . and Canada is proud of your achievement in battle.

Gen. Sir Alexander, of Victoria, B.C., says that as far as the weather is concerned it will be like the one he has seen in his home city.

In the old Mediterranean, Canadian sailors are writing a brilliant chapter in the naval history of our country," he continued.

"In Africa, Italy and the Middle East Canadian sailors are adding, day by day, to the highest traditions in aerial warfare."

SPORT SHOW
by Hal Dean

ON this day a year ago, hockey season in Edmonton was already under way, the junior league having opened on Dec. 30 with three teams—Canadian and Edmonton Athletic Clubs and No. 3 "M" Depot. This Christmas Eve finds the fans still waiting for their initial glimpse of the boys in action, for the first game has not yet been set for Jan. 1.

Both E.A.C. and Canadian are back in the circuit, but in final makeup has not yet been determined. "M" Depot seems to have got off to a good start for membership, but neither will be able to start unless a written order from the Canadian R.C.A.F. ruling. It is possible, however, that H.M.C.S. Nonsuch may be allowed to join the circuit.

Of the total of 30 regulars on the Elimination and Canadian Athletes Club junior rosters of a year ago, 28 are now in the services, the remaining two being on leave, either military or exempt. In addition, Bob Gillies, coach of last year's champion Canadians, is in the navy.

AIR FORCE MOST POPULAR

THAT the boys showed a decided preference for the air force is easily explained, there being more numbers in the three branches of the services. Only two joined the army—one from each club. The nine Canadians and seven L.A.C.'ees are in the air force. Seven of the 28 in the services are in the navy.

Of the total of 16 Canadians in the services, Open Gray Earl Chisholm, Darley Duncan, Francis McLean, John McRae, John McLean, Vic Kurk, Vince Martin and Jerry Wiggin joined the air force. Bing Yip, Rhys Morris and Bill Lancaster are in the navy and the solo army representative is Stan Gillies. Hennie Hassie Young and Fred Smitten, chosen from the E.A.C. squad for the playdowns also joined up. Hassie is now serving back in the city of Xmas, Xmas.

Thirteen of last year's E.A.C. players are in the services. Of the 28 in the services, 13 are in the air force, 12 in the navy and three in the army. The remaining four are in the solo army.

Regular Draws Start Jan. 3

English Find U.S. Football Insomnia Cure

By HARRY GRAYSON

NEW YORK, Dec. 24.—American footballers in England are becoming crazy over the sport on the other side.

English writing for the Cairo Egyptian Mail, took in the opening of the British Legion Conference or Pyramid League, made up of American Army teams.

He pronounces it a certain cure for bad blood pressure, cardiac trouble, and insomnia, especially the latter.

John Lauder, teacher, formerly of the Royal Engineers, who is attached to a medical detachment, saw the game about which Exile writes, mixed up his account.

He says he had instances at home that called for shuffles, but after this particular game he said, "I don't know just what it will take in a pigskin way to keep Britshers awake."

LEONARD'S OUTFIT WON

Rebels, who beat the Green Devils twice, opened with a regular draw in the president versus vice-president competition on Saturday.

They are the only team in the Royal Club says what ice there is to be had up in fair weather, and that is the record for the Rebels.

The Rebels scored on a 30-yard pass of Hayes, run following a 40-yard punt and an offside from the 5 after a 10-yard sprint put the ball in position.

With the Rebels 10 in the waning minutes, the Rebels' punters averaged 46 yards from the line of scrimmage.

Yet Exile found the game at Getaf just one long yawn. He demands some "big" night before Christmas and all. "And so to all good sports everywhere, wherever they may be, a very Merry Christmas from the Rebels in the Squad—Don Kilups and myself."

GAME WENT "OVERTIME"

Exile's idea of football action, cutting and running, go minutes of action. What did he say?

"A game scheduled for an hour lasted 2 hours and 36 minutes," he recalls. "The extra hours and 26 minutes were taken up by the referees, being taken up by the time limit, and consumption of mustard elixir, long-midfield conferences, healthy manhood standing on the ground, interminable substitutions."

One old Cambridge Rugby Blue went to sleep during a game, while another, seemingly Exile, hadn't seen a spot outside Lord's cricket ground on a warm August evening. Exile was left as cold as yesterday's custard.

MUST BE TOUGH

"Imagine that on a wet December day in Manchester," he says. "I'm not saying it's more difficult than here. What I do know is that you have influenza straightforward."

The old British football crowd could stomach the long intervals, but nothing was happening," continues Exile. "Spectators were out in the cold, cutting and running, and interminable huddles and substitutions. Would Manly did a Rugby half-time? Well, I think it's the best post-pop-up playing way by far."

Perhaps I have no head for statistics for this football, seems made up of lists of men who have made so many rushes and passes and so many yards. The point is that to play it like they make 'em. Perhaps the same applies to the spectators."

Exile doesn't like baseball either.

PRACTICES CALLED

FOR E.A.C. TEAMS

All three Edmonton Athletic Club teams will practice at 11:30 a.m. this evening. Midgets work out from 10:30 a.m. to the next hour. Juniors go on at 3:30 p.m.

Practices are also being held on Sunday morning—midgets from 9 to 11 a.m., juniors from 11 to 12, and seniors from 11 to 12.

E.A.C. director of hockey George Souter says that the positions on any of the teams have been filled and that the coaches extend an open invitation to attend the practices.

They've been bombing the Nazis in the plane.

Two of the Lieutenants Robert Shiers, Tecumseh, Wash.; Jack Watson, Indianapolis, Ind.; Elmer W. Young, of Rochester, Ind., and John F. Clegg, of Toledo, Ohio. They said the New York incident was closed.

They, then, added, "you can be sure we're properly baited over the coals."

"We knew we were heading for the 'no name,'" explained Wheeler, "and dropping in on the world series seemed a good idea at the time."

INDIA RUM

WASHINGTON—On Thursday, they began with "Silent Night." This afternoon of this week I had a tea [Night], which is known in many parts for the international students [languages all over the world]. Those who gather in this city to study at young people also sang a Spanish Christmas carol. The students from the South, most of whom are Negroes, are undergraduates, some of them understanding and singing with them in medical, law or business! This gave me a sense of the companionship and kinship with the South.

At this party I usually wear my Christmas Carol. An American student in first Christmas Carols. This year I wonder, if in every school in

"Christmas!"

FRECKLES

CURIOS WORLD

Answer: Yule, Christmas; Noel, Christmas carol, or shout of joy; herald, messenger.

In this country, the pupils couldn't learn a Spanish or Portuguese language, so for the Christmas vacation, they're learning French. In every South and Central American country, the children could learn the words of "Silent Night" in English.

Friday afternoon I went to visit the first of the houses in the neighborhood where colored people, who can not find any better places, in which to live, are now living. I was appalled to find blocks where the houses were the homes of Negro families. The water pipes, on which the people depend for all the water used for washing, cleaning and cooking, are all up in the air, leading to outdoor toilets. This water is also used to flush the latrines.

I am afraid there will be no contamination because the pipes are separate. But I think the risk is ever present because pipes deteriorate and break. They have been set up with uneven floors and the ingrained dirt of ages. The pathetic part is, that in nearly every house there was a single heater, which was made to keep the house clean and to sweep the yard!

Even hot water for scrubbing washes and for bathing must be carried in and, if wanted, must be heated on the stove. The heating system consists mainly of heat upstairs floors, and these are only small coil stoves. The bedding on the beds I saw was anything but clean.

One two-room house had three old ladies living in it. The next-door neighbor had been trying to get them to leave. They were in bed because they had no money to pay their rent. The effort to make these places habitable was well worth the sacrifice, a few cooking utensils, in one place I saw no china with which to set the table, though the family consisted of father, mother and three or four children.

For four rooms of the type I have described, the family paid $27.5 a month for rent, water, gas, light and no light. In other words all they get besides a tumble-down shelter is warmth from a pine and black varnish and this month may not be contaminated. The man of the family earned $4.50 a day, which is average wages, and day available.

Although most doctors frown upon the use of the word bilious, I find that many patients complain that they feel bilious. It is true that a sick man is not concerned so much with the correctness of his symptoms as with the cure he is given.

When the average layman develops a certain set of symptoms he immediately calls it bilious. We can not get very far away from the fact that the name biliousness has come to stand for a group of symptoms, mostly pain, and the average person readily understands what is meant by it, even though the medical term or different terminology were used.

The patient who is bilious is also discomforted and worried and has poor appetite. The skin has a muddied salivary look and the whites of the eyes may be yellowed or orange. His stomach is upset and he may be constipated. In addition he may have a loss of appetite, a desire for cold, watery mineral water for a few days after which the liver readjusts itself and the symptoms disappear.

The most common cause of biliousness is overeating and particularly eating too much fat. The patient with a sluggish liver and any of these bilious symptoms will do well to eat a great deal of food and starch for a time and to use a larger amount of vegetables instead.

The body is overtaxed by bad habits other than incorrect eating. The liver may seem to be failing because it does not take enough amount of food. Any habit which wastes energy when unused gives strain to the liver will produce a bilious condition. If the patient fails to empty himself normally, then the energy may be used temporarily to eliminate the waste products.

Vigorous exercise is another helpful measure which may be helpful in helping the liver. Correct diet, intestinal cleanliness and plenty of exercise are the three most important aids which may be used to help the liver to function well enough so that no further trouble is experienced by the patient.

The patient should be given a diet which is high in protein and low in carbohydrates. If the patient is ill, the patient will often experience marked relief by going on a diet which is high in protein and low in carbohydrates. Two or three meals a day should be used which are made up of one vegetable, the patient desiring to have a large amount of fruit juice to take one or two enemas a day to keep the colon clean. It is important to drink a large amount as desired of the vegetable. They will prevent a desire for other foods for a time. The patient should be given a diet which is high in protein and low in carbohydrates unless well filled with the vegetables or vegetable soups.

If the patient has headache, dizziness or nausea, the patient with a bilious attack is best treated with a diet which contains no eggs, meat, fish or fowl. Large amounts will pass away soon and after which it is important to adopt better methods of living which will prevent further attacks.

All questions regarding health and diet will be answered. Large stamped, self-addressed envelope must be enclosed. Write on one side of paper. Letter must not exceed 150 words. Address: McCoy Health Service, 1005 West 6th Street, Los Angeles, Calif.

Flew in Reinforcements

City Fliers in 'Dash to Alaska' When Jap Invasion Threatened

By JACK DELONG
Pilot of Fortune

When the Japanese rained bombs on Dutch Harbor and the whole northwest of America stood in deadly peril of invasion in June, 1942, two Edmonton commercial air lines pilots made an exciting dash for Alaska with R.C.A.F. crew reinforcements.

The airmen were Capt. Don Patry, a ten-year pilot for C.P. Airlines Ltd. and the late Capt. Ernie W. Kubicek, a former C.P. Airlines pilot. Their spiffy Lockheed 14s crammed with lads in air force blue were recalled here from a recent flight. Captain George, general manager of C.P. Air Lines Western Lines and Walter Gilbert, superintendent of the Anchorage district of C.P. Air Lines.

The flights to the rocky ramparts of North America's "invasion coast" were the first time following revelations by the U.S. Office of War Information of the part played by civilian aviation companies in the defense of Alaska.

The pilots and mechanics went on a bare bones emergency request of Western Air Command of the R.C.A.F. and so serious did the outlook seem for a time that there was a proposal to commandeer all civilian aircraft in the west for defense purposes.

Two loads of passengers, some en route to Edmonton from Whitehorse and others northbound from Vancouver to Yukon were "jellied" at air fields along the route on notice of just 15 minutes.

Both machines roared back to Vancouver, where the R.C.A.F.

mechanics were taken aboard and then the planes dived off for their destination at Anchorage in Alaska.

At that time Anchorage was right in the Pacific aerial war "front line."

GRAVE SITUATION

The jag smash at Dutch Harbor was the simultaneous invasion of the Aleutians, was viewed with great gravity. It now can be safely revealed.

U.S. Bombers Sight 20 Enemy Vessels

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—(AP)—U.S. bombers, bombing deep into the Marshall Islands yesterday, sank 20 enemy vessels, possibly bearing men and materials for a slowdown, last-ditch fight to retain this threatened Japanese stronghold in the Pacific, the Navy reported yesterday.

The ships were sighted by bombers raiding the Kwajalein atoll.

The presence of this number of vessels was not mentioned in the announcement. However, they could have been bringing in reinforcements.

Nine Japanese fighter planes rose to drive off the American bombers. No American planes were damaged.

The Japanese also were reported to have carried off a high altitude balloon from the American base at Tarawa in the Gilbert Islands. Two planes flying at high altitude dropped bombs and one American plane on the ground was damaged slightly.

Findings were reported to have been carried off by bombers raiding the Kwajalein atoll.

Nazis Fight to Last Man

Complete Devastation of Total War Marks Ground Won in Canadian Drive

Extracts from the Canadian 1st Division's diary of the terrific fight of the Canadian 1st Division, on Dec. 21, 1944, near the Adriatic, Dogana, Antron, 28-year-old Canadian Private was correspondingly honoured for his gallantry in an eye-witness account of the area after the battle.—EDITOR

BY DOUGLAS AMARON
WITH THE CANADIANS

IN ITALY, Dec. 21—(D&P)—Total war has now won the Italian front, won at considerable cost by the Canadian 1st Division, around the Ortona-Orsogna road in a fashion which can be described only by one word—devastation.

Trees and the earth itself have been torn and shattered by the explosion of thousands of shells and mortar bombs. Men have died and their simple graves are surrounded by shell holes.

It has started because at San Leonardo island from the Adriatic and about four miles offshore due south of the coastal town of Ortona, there were eight big guns on San Leonardo near the Ortona-Orsogna road. Around them Germans have dug in for weeks. There is evidence that the Germans had their orders to fight to the last.

SEA OF SHELL HOLES

Over this whole area, which is more than 1,000 yards deep, there are shell holes, some of which contain water, others with overgrown weeds without two shell holes in another hole.

Burned German trucks and tanks and mortars litter the ground. There are scores of half-filled cartridge cases, machine gun shells, shrapnel shells and the weapons which used them. This morning (Tuesday) the Germans were still there but the Canadians worked all day to bury them.

It is silent, except a cat or two here and there. The only sounds are the crackle of gunpowder as gunners fire their guns, sounds of gasping breath, the crackle of a fire, the roar of a truck, the way in Ortona and Orsogna Troops are settling down in camps in what remains of houses or in former German positions.

BLASTED AT BRIDGE

The Germans tried in vain to demolish a bridge crossing a gully leading to a creek on the west bank of the River Po, between Ortona and Orsogna. Troops advanced at both ends before the Germans could finish the job. Engineers threw a bridge across the gully and the Germans fled.

This crossing is named "Dismal Bridge" and the corps traffic was on the spot during the fighting. It was a "warm" issue because the Germans still had to cross the river to get to the next objective, two bridges a mile away.

Canadian and Worksmen, the gunners, were sent to the bridge to clear it. They did so, but the bridge was not touched.

TYPHUS INOCULATIONS

Now that the Germans are gone, inoculations against typhus are being given to the survivors. Capt. R. P. Phillips of B.C. has been ordered to take charge of the inoculations.

The battalion padre was standing by a week-old graveyard where already 30 members of the unit had been buried. Before the head of each grave bore the man's name, numbers, religious denomination and date they died.

He placed in the shape of a cross grave and there were no crosses.

Canadian Tanks and Artillery 25-Pounder Set Battle Tempo on Italian Front

COURT D'ALENE, Idaho.—(UPI)—Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Banks said yesterday they had received word from their son, Lt. Eugene Banks, United States naval fighter pilot, had been commended by his commanding officer for shooting down five Japanese Zeroes during a dog fight raid on the Marshall Islands—all in five minutes.

Effectively depicting the weight and striking power of the Canadian Armoured Corps and the Royal Canadian Artillery in Italy, these three views of Canadian tanks and anti-aircraft guns in action with Hitler's crack divisions in Italy are fighting a retreating battle. Top, Sherman tanks, led in line for inspection on an Italian plain, belong to the regiment that scattered German tanks in the battle for Termoli, destroying ten Hun Mark IV's in bitter olive-grove fighting. Bottom, two views of a Canadian 25-pounder anti-aircraft gun in action against the crack German anti-aircraft gunners. At left are Gun. Jim O'Hearn of Wetcastle, S. N. B., Gun. R. C. Gunn of St. Catharines, Ont., and Gun. S. S. Cline of Hudson, Man. In one Sicilian incident, these guns, hub to hub, smothered the German lines of two square miles under an artillery curtain of 30,000 shells within a few hours.

Big New Year's Eve Jamboree Gets Sanction

Col. E. R. Knight, V.D., officer commanding the 41st Reserve Brigade Group, with headquarters in Calgary, gave ready approval to the Reserve force unit of Edmonton's local association, Victory Jamboree, New Year's Eve when approached on his recent visit to the city.

Primary object of the Jamboree is to bring together young men, women and children compelled by their domestic or military service in the forces, and those who are spending New Year's Eve in the city.

Usually such entertainment is organized by the various service organizations, but last year, as set forth by the organization, the young men of the community and women should be included. The Jamboree will be held in the military center, the armory, according to the plans of the association, and the time and place, the date, the place and type of entertainment announced.

Edmontonians are invited to the Jamboree, which is composed of many young people continuing when an out-of-the-way place can be found. Major W. C. Rossouw, commanding officer of the 11th (Vt.) Bn., Royal Canadian Dragoons, is president of the Jamboree, and chairman of the Group being organized for organization purposes.

Christmas Gift From Government

Unemployed recipients of provincial relief, numbering approximately 6000, will have a bright Christmas as a result of action by the Alberta government.

As a special Christmas gift, an extra amount of money will be added to regular monthly amounts paid for December to each person receiving this type of relief, according to the Alberta relief department and finance.

The provincial relief department is under the direction of Hon. Dr. W. Cross minister of health.

Selling on the home front in particular as in war, they battle with illegible and incomplete addresses and race against time to get the message.

Unknown and untagged postal articles employed in Edmonton have added reinforcements to their ranks for the past month, and with machinery and time saving methods they are rushing parcels and letters through as fast as possible.

At the city's main post office permanent boxes are used for points in and out of Edmonton.

There'll always be a Christmas card one employee who comes with the post office many years ago, don't you know me?"

"As a matter of fact," he can assure you, "we have more than 2000 changes of address every month."

2 City Fliers Called to Aid In Jap Crisis

Men, turning back over a certain land off the coast.

But in the rush and excitement
there were no clear cut identifications of the Japanese aircraft. The two fighter aircraft wheeling about over the Anchorage area look like the "suspicious" aircraft Mr. Gilbert had seen in his flight with Patry and Bubbeek round when they approached their destination.

"A swarm of P-40 pursuit ships raced out to meet our ships. Our boys were certainly relieved to see that they had made it through the start splitting from the fighter plane because there had been no sign of identification," said Patry.

The "suspicious" P-40s flew wing to wing with the Lockheed right about the Anchorage area. The two men made contact with the field and made safe landing.

Mr. Patry and Bubbeek pointed out grim earnestness set a few more chills up the spine of the "visiting" Edmonton pilots.

IS THERE A SANTA CLAUS?

This editorial, which has partly become timeless, was written in the New York Sun in 1897 by Francis Pharcellus Church in answer to a letter from a little eight year old girl named Virginia O'Hanlon who had been told by some of her friends that there was no Santa Claus.

Virginia, your little friends are wrong.
They have been affected by the skepticism of a skeptical age.
They do not believe except they see.
They think that nothing can be which is not comprehensible by their little minds.
All minds, Virginia, whether they be men's or children's, are little.
In this great universe of ours man is a mere insect,
an ant, in his intellect,
as compared with the boundless worlds about him, as measured by the intelligence capable of grasping the whole of truth and knowledge.

Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus.
He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give to your life its highest beauty and joy.
Alas! how dreary would be the world if there were no Santa Claus!
It would be as dreary as if there were no Virginias.
There would be no childlike faith then, no poetry, no romance to make tolerable this existence.
We should have no enjoyment, except in sense and sight.
The eternal light with which childhood fills the world would be extinguished.
Not believe in Santa Claus!
You might as well not believe in fairies!
You might get your papa to hire men to watch in all the chimneys on Christmas Eve to catch Santa Claus, but even if they did not see Santa Claus coming down, what would that prove?
Nobody sees Santa Claus, but that is no sign that there is no Santa Claus.
The most real things in the world are those that neither children nor men can see.
Did you ever see fairies dancing on the lawn?
Of course not, but that's no proof that they are not there.
Nobody can conceive or imagine all the wonders there are unseen and unseeable in the world.

You tear apart the baby's rattle and see what makes the noise inside, but there is a veil covering the unseen world which not the strongest man, nor even the united strength of all the strongest men that ever lived, could tear apart.
Only faith, fancy, poetry, love, romance, can push aside that curtain and view and picture the supernal beauty and glory beyond.
Is it all real?
Ah, Virginia, in all this world there is nothing else real and abiding.
No Santa Claus!
Thank God! he lives, and he lives forever.
A thousand years from now, Virginia, nay, ten times ten thousand years from now, he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood.

Five Christmases at war!

In this, the fifth, a great and wonderful light is melting the darkness of the past. It is our fervent prayer that before the next festive season comes around "Peace on Earth" will echo round the world in vibrant reality. In the meantime, as Merry a Christmas as is possible, to all.

Our sincere thanks to our many customers for their kind understanding and co-operation.
Our warm appreciation for the loyal support of our employees.
